Description

Found in the sought after village of Hockwold in Norfolk, this established detached bungalow is extremely well presented throughout, with sealed unit UPVC doors and windows, plus an oil fired central heating system.

The property is accessed via a welcoming entrance hall, with a long inner hall running from one end of the bungalow to the other, with three built in airing/ storage cupboards. The hall opens to a useful cloakroom/ W.C as well as leading to the modern kitchen, which has a range of wooden wall and base units, as well as an inset ceramic sink and drainer, plus space for a Range cooker with an extractor fitted over. The kitchen has a window looking out to the garden, plus an external side door to the driveway. The kitchen opens to the useful utility room, which provides an additional sink plus extra cupboard space, as well as space for both a washing machine and fridge freezer. The utility is home to the oil fired boiler, and has a window to the front aspect.

The lounge and dining room both have wood effect laminate flooring, as does the entrance/ inner hall. The dining room is found at the front of the home with an attractive bay window, whilst the lounge has a window and patio doors opening to the rear garden. The lounge also boasts an open fire place with an attractive brick surround, with a marble mantel and hearth.

The bungalow has four double bedrooms, three of which boast built in double wardrobes, and all bedrooms are conveniently located to the one side of the bungalow, with the family bathroom found between them. The bathroom comprises of a bath with shower attached, W.C and wash hand basin with fitted units, plus a heated towel rail and a side window.

Externally there are gardens to the front and rear, both predominantly laid to lawn, with some mature shrubs and hedging, plus an adjacent shingled driveway providing off road parking in front of the larger than average brick built garage.

The garage measures 22' 10" deep x 10' 4" width, with a pitched roof, and power and light connected. With a metal up and over door to front, plus a personal door opening to the rear garden, which features a patio area just outside of the lounge doors.

An internal viewing is now available and comes highly recommended, contact Molyneux Estate Agents of Brandon to arrange.
